

LUNDS
UNIVERSITET

Conference on civil society studies in Lund, 15-16 April 2020

Call for papers

---

The inter-disciplinary research program Civil Society Elites? Comparing elite composition, reproduction, interaction and contestation in European civil societies cordially invites researchers working on civil society studies to Lund University, Sweden, for a mini conference 15-16th of April 2020.

The goal is to provide an inspiring arena for academic discussions on contemporary civil society in European societies. The papers can cover a broad range of topics including studies on engagement and volunteering, organization and mobilization, movements and NGO, power and resource inequalities between civil society actors, as well as advocacy and philanthropic actors and activities.

We envision a workshop-like conference with focus on the presentation of texts and collegial commenting and discussion. We look forward to receiving papers departing from various theoretical perspectives and diverse empirical approaches. Theoretical as well as empirical contributions are most welcome.

Please send your abstract to Jayeon.Lindellee@soch.lu.se latest by the 31st of January 2020

Deadline for paper submission: 1st of April 2020

